From 21 to 23 January 2025 the European Showmen's Union will be holding its 43rd Congress in Edinburgh. The international industry meeting, which takes place every two years, will be accompanied by a colourful and attractive supporting programme.

Delegates from the national ESU associations can expect an extensive programme of work in the Scottish World Heritage City. In plenary sessions and expert discussions at the Radisson Blu Edinburgh conference hotel, current topics such as safeguarding the industry and the preservation and promotion of European fairgrounds will be discussed and the course set for the professional future.

Alex James Colquhoun, Chairman of the host Scottish section of the Showmen's Guild of Great Britain and Vice President of the European Showmen's Union, is already looking forward to welcoming his European colleagues to Edinburgh.

In addition to the plenary session on 22 January, the three-day congress programme includes the participation of the delegates in a debate in the Scottish Parliament on the subject of the European Showmen's Union, followed by a reception in the parliament lobby, a festive evening event and a joint visit to Edinburgh's most famous sights and attractions.
